Ms. Canfield is an associate with Lyons Gaddis Kahn & Hall, P.C. and works in the General Civil Litigation Practice Group, including the areas of family law, real estate and business. Her family law practice also includes helping couples resolve issues associated with non-traditional families. She also provides assistance to ditch and reservoir companies on easement and other real estate matters.

Prior to law school, Ms. Canfield worked for 14 years for a large land developer and builder in Boulder County, and then started with a small software company that eventually grew into a large publicly traded company. Ms. Canfield returned to school for a law degree in 1999. After graduation from law school, Ms. Canfield served as a law clerk to the Honorable Carol Glowinsky, Judge for the Twentieth Judicial District of Colorado in Boulder.

In the Longmont community, Ms. Canfield has been on the Longmont Housing and Human Services Board for three years and is vice chair for 2009. She has also served for four years on the Board of Directors for ArtLink, a non-profit organization promoting the arts and business in Longmont.

Ms. Canfield is a member of the Boulder County Bar Association, Colorado Bar Association and American Bar Association.
